Lozen

Lozen was an exceptional warrior and prophet of the Chiricahua Apache tribe, born around 1840. She was the sister of Victorio, a renowned chief of the Chihenne tribe, and actively participated in resistance campaigns against the Mexican and U.S. armies.

Her name, "Lozen," is interpreted as "the woman who stole horses" or "skilled horse thief," reflecting her proficiency in this vital activity for the Apache people. In terms of family, her most notable relationship was with Chief Victorio. She fought alongside him and, after his death in 1880, continued the resistance with other Apache leaders such as Nana and Geronimo. Although she never married, Lozen dedicated her entire life to her people and became a central figure in their fight to protect their land.

ARCHDIOCESE of MILWAUKEE

Attention high school students, young adults, and parents:

Prior to COVID-19, the Archdiocese of Milwaukee sponsored a high school intramural league, CYM, offering basketball, volleyball, and softball.

We are now exploring the launch of a new recreational ministry with separate leagues for high school students and young adults to foster community and support evangelization.

We are seeking adults with a heart for discipleship to help plan and lead this effort. If you're interested, please scan the QR code and fill out our interest form. Please respond by May 1st.
